Obituary

CHARLES A. CLAIRMONT

On Thursday, April 18th, Charles A. Clairmont passed away, after an extended illness, at the home of his sisters in the village. He was the only son of the late Charles Clairmont, one of the pioneers of Marmora who conducted a blacksmith shop here for many years. Deceased was born in Marmora and spent his boyhood and early manhood here. He was altar boy in the first R. C. church, built on the site of the present church in the time of Father Davis. He served in that capacity for nearly twenty years.

The late Charles A. Clairmont left Marmora about forty years ago and has only been back on an occasional visit since. For some time he had resided in Toronto. About four years ago his health broke down. Later it was found that he was suffering from cancer and a complication of diseases. Last summer he was in a hospital in Toronto for a time and he was advised by his doctors to get away from the city. He came to Marmora and has been with his sisters ever since. He gradually grew worse but was very patient in his suffering and retained his faculties until the end.

The deceased is survived by a widow, three sons and five daughters. The sons are Bernard, of Detroit; John of Marmora; and Louis, of Cleveland. The daughters are Mrs. Thos. Bailey, Mrs. Percy Kaiser, and Helen, Albertine and Veronica, all of Toronto. The eldest son, Charles, died in 1919 as a result of wounds received in action during the Great War. He also leaves three sisters: Misses Frances, Cecelia and Louise, of Marmora.

The funeral took place last Saturday morning, Mass being conducted in the Church of the Sacred Heart after which interment took place in the R. C. cemetery.

 Letter to The Herald

 REMINISCENCES

June 30th, 1932

To the Marmora Herald:

I noticed in the Belleville paper the passing away of Joseph Clairmont, of Gravenhurst, Muskoka. As we were both born and brought up in Marmora, I, of course, knew him well. He always looked on life in a very serious and dignified way. When I saw his obituary notice my mind shot back to Christmas, 1875. I had called at the home of the late Dan Shannon to help out the passing of a rather dull afternoon. I was always helped out of the blues when I mingled with that lively family and that day was treated to an extra joy to find Miss Crawford, now Mrs. Dunlay, was there "in all her glory." Then to add to our pleasure along came Joe Clairmont with McWilliams' grey mare and cutter.

His mission was to look up a bunch who would go to help the swelling of a party which was coming off at Mr. Gillen's. I had reason to suspect that Joe had a strong hankering for Miss A. E. Shannon as his escort, I, being well pleased with having the honor of the company of either of them. When we reached our destination dancing was in order with Dan McKinnon master of ceremonies and his brother Jack played the fiddle. Needless to say we all had a good time. I wonder how many who were there are now alive. One of us four has just passed away; Miss Shannon married and lives in Seattle and is one of my valued correspondents; Miss Crawford, now Mrs. Dunlay, of Marmora, and I in Cherry Valley, Prince Edward County.

I only know of four persons now in Marmora whom I went to school with in the old Beaver Creek school, which I attended in 1871, that being my last year at school, - Miss R. A. Mouncey, of Madoc, being our teacher. Hester McMullen, Hugh and Dan Shannon and Dan Campion are all I can trace in Marmora who once attended Beaver Creek School.

I would like to have a re-union of old timers take place, who were grown up in 1879. That is the year I left there in December. Fifty-two of us, all told, boarded the train in Belleville for Marquette, Mich., 150 miles west of the Soo on Lake Superior. We had to go by way of Chicago around Lake Michigan to reach our destination--no way being open by way of the Soo then.

At Chicago they told us we could get no lunch till we reached Marquette. We then got a bbl. of sodas and a cheese put in our car and away we went for 36 hours. There are those who are scattered through Hastings County who were on that excursion.

In the winter of 1891-92 I was away up at Swan Lake near the source of the Mississippi River and there I met two brothers by the name of Powers, who told me their sister was married to Chas. Bleecker, of Marmora, so, of course, we felt kind of chummy.

Tomorrow will be Dominion Day. The Beaver Creek folks celebrated the first one in 1867 in a grove south of the Briggs Farm and east of the Johns' homestead. The location was known afterwards as the Pinner farm. My sister Kate made a pyramid cake, above which was suspended a motto inscribed "Union Dominion". This supplied a text for the speakers.

Respectfully
JAS. WIGGINS,
Cherry Valley

Marmora's Oldest Home

By W. J. COTTRELL

Thousands of footsteps resounding on the sidewalk outside of the spacious, well-timbered Clairmont home, Marmora's oldest residence, are heard daily by its two inhabitants, Misses Selena and Louise Clairmont.

Situated at the intersection of Burstall and Matthews streets, the ancient building is passed by more people than any other house in the village.

Seventy-five years ago, Charles Clairmont and his brother Eli, who were village blacksmiths, built the dwelling that today is the home of the former's daughters, previously mentioned.

The iron works in operation at that time has induced the Clairmont brothers to move to Marmora from Quebec. Charles hailed from Berthier while his wife was a native of St. Elizabeth.

Their original home which stood on the brow of McGill street, was destroyed by a fire which also claimed one of Marmora's oldest stores.

Bought an Organ

Charles Clairmont was musically inclined, though no musician, and on moving to the new residence he purchased an organ then available for $200. Previous to this he had been intent on his oldest child, Selena, being able to play. An Englishman, Benjamin Beddomes, village division court clerk, was teaching a class of 15 to play a four octave melodeon. Selena was the only one to finish the course.

When the new organ was installed in the Clairmont home the young musician practiced constantly and was eventually appointed organist of the family church, Sacred Heart. Later her younger sister Louise succeeded her in this position.

Miss Selena never attempted singing but recalls many occasions when she had acted as accompanist for local soloists. One in particular was the late James Wilkinson, whose services as a soloist were often in demand at many public social functions.

Younger Louise also sang to her family and occasional community gatherings. She was fond of painting and some of her creations still adorn the walls of the Clairmont home.

Invalid For 8 Years

And although she has been an invalid for the past eight years, she maintains that old humorous, cheery spirit known in years gone by. Any visitor that comes to the house to entertain her gets it all back in good measure.

In the corner of the room stands a piano bought when the organ became slightly impaired. When company is present, Miss Selena is always anxious to play the piano. And the visitor cannot help but marvel at the dexterity of the fingers of the pianist who has seen more than 80 years slip past, and has solely done the housework in recent times.

Four children were in the Clairmont family — Selena, Fanny, Charles and Louise. Fanny died a few years ago and Charles has a home of his own, leaving the two sisters only inhabitants of the old homestead.

Never before have the Clairmont girls been interviewed and they showed gratitude and wonder at the interest taken in their home and themselves. Clairmont remains a beacon of goodwill and cheer to those who have time to visit it.

MISS FANNY CLAIRMONT

After an illness of only a couple of days Miss Fanny Clairmont passed away at her home on Matthew street on Monday afternoon. Many had not learned of her illness until her death was announced and it came as a real shock to many of her friends. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clairmont and only her two sisters, Selina and Louise, now survive of the family which has been so long and favorably known in Marmora.

The family residence on the corner of Matthew and Burstall streets was erected by Charles Clairmont, a pioneer blacksmith of the family. The family had resided there as long as most of the residents of the village can remember, and since the death of their father the sisters had lived alone, except on occasions when one of their nephews resided with them. As the majority of those who attended church services pass their home on Sunday the cheery greeting of one or other of the Misses Clairmont has been a real pleasure to many. Kindly, cheerful and industrious Miss Fanny Clairmont found her greatest happiness in service for others.

The funeral was held yesterday morning and was attended by a very large number of friends. Requiem mass was conducted by Rev. Father Keeley and interment was made in Sacred Heart cemetery.

MARRIED

McCRATH — CLAIRMONT

Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, was the scene of a very pretty winter wedding at 10.00 a.m. on Saturday, December 27th, when Louise Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Doran Clairmont, of Marmora, became the bride of F/O James Paul McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond McGrath, of Oshawa.

The double ring ceremony was performed and Nuptial Mass said by Rev. Fr. W. P. Healey, Parish Priest. The sanctuary of the church was prettily decorated with white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Hugh Brady played the wedding music and also sang three beautiful solos, "Mother at Thy Feet I'm Kneeling," "Oh Sacred Heart" and "Panis Angelicus".

The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked very lovely in a floor length gown of Slipper Satin with scalloped neckline, long, pointed sleeves and tiara headdress studded with seed pearls. She wore a single strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of Happiness red roses.

Miss Patricia Clairmont, sister of the bride, was maid of honour and the bridesmaids were Miss Theresa Clairmont another sister and Miss Margaret Shannon, a cousin. They were all dressed in identical street length dresses of winter red velvet with red slippers and carried white fur muffs with holly and wore matching caps.

Mr. Michael McGrath, brother of the groom, performed the duties of best man and the ushers were Charles Clairmont, brother of the bride, and Thomas Callery, of Reid, a cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parish Hall with one of the groups of the Catholic Women's League catering for the wedding breakfast. The Hall was beautifully decorated with seasonal decorations and flowers and the bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake and vases of red roses.

The guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing a dusty blue lace over satin dress and corsage of white gardenias, assisted by the groom's mother in a hammered red Taffets sheath dress, white profile hat, and corsage of white gardenias.

Following the meal Rev. Fr. Healey acted as Master of Ceremonies for a short program during which a number of the guests expressed their congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple.

For their honeymoon trip to Montreal and other points East, the bride travelled in a green Paisley sheath dress, sheared raccoon coat and white cloche hat and accessories, and a corsage of carnations. On their return they will reside in North Bay where the groom is stationed with the R.C. A.F.

Out of town guests were present from Toronto Oshawa, Peterborough, Reid, Marysville, Madoc and Belleville.

GIVEN LONG TERMS

Last week Isaac Sellyeh and Bernard Clairmont, who were wanted on a charge of a theft of an auto belonging to Mr. Philip Sopha and of breaking into Hartley's jewellery store, were arrested in Gravenhurst and brought to Marmora and placed in the cells here. The next morning it was discovered that Sellyeh had smashed the locks on the cell doors and escaped. He only went a few miles, however, before he was recaptured. Clairmont did not attempt to escape, but remained around the hall.

They were committed to Belleville for trial and last Friday came up before Judge Deroche. They were found guilty on three charges. Sellyeh, who had a prison record and was recognized as the leader, was given an indeterminate sentence of about four years with hard labor.

Bernard Clairmont was committed to St. John's Industrial School, Toronto, until he is 21 years of age, unless the authorities deem it advisable to release him sooner. He is a clever lad and a splendid athlete and it is to be hoped the training he will receive in the next few years will develop him into a good citizen.

The window in the Dominion Bank arranged in connection with the rink campaign, has attracted more attention than any other display in the village in many years. A pair of skates is one of the articles attracting a great deal of attention. The skates were among the many valuable relics found in the old Clairmont home. While their exact history is not known tradition is that they were brought from France by Jack Clairmont's grandparents and are probably over 100 years old. As far as we can learn no one here has ever seen a pair like them before. The old group photos of former hockey and lacrosse teams are also arousing a lot of attention.

YOUR CENTENNIAL

... and mine

(By Mr. Arthur Sweet)

In a book recently published, called Historic Hastings, there appears considerable information concerning Marmora Village and anyone caring to read it, would be well repaid by doing so. Continuing one of our Centennial projects, the listing of the homes in Marmora Village and Township, that are 100 years old, or over, and to obtain for them, some form of recognition, we have the following.

What is probably the oldest, is that section of Dr. Parkin's home and office which Mr. Geo. Bleecker Sr., bought from the Marmora Foundry Company in 1857. The original building was built of hand hewn timber, but has been added too, and improved and moved to its present position. It was used by the Foundry Co. as an office, and store before being sold.

In 1866, Mr. Bleecker built for his own use, the building now used as a home and Shoe Store by Ron Stephens.

Among the listed assets of the Marmora Foundry Co. was a "Bake-House." As the ovens of that time were almost invariably built of brick and stone, we are led to believe that it referred to the house now occupied by Mrs. Charles Nichol. Until about 1896, when Mrs. Wilkinson built an oven at her home at the corner of Main and Madoc Street, operated it briefly, then sold it to Wm. Sweet. It was the only bakery on Main Street where most of the buildings belonging to the Foundry outside of those used in connection with the water power were situated. The "Nichol" managed shop was first operated by the grand father, then by the father of Mr. Charles Nichol.

Mrs. Nichol stated that some of the equipment, including the oven remained there, when she was married, and she is now over ninety two years of age. This house is the only one in the Village, that has been occupied by the same family or descendants, continuously, for so long.

The present home of Mrs. F. N. Marett, was once the home of David Bently, who was managing director of the "Cobourg, Peterborough, and Marmora railway and Mining Co., which was amalgamated with the Marmora foundry Co., in its final re-organization in 1866.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frost was built by Charles Clairmont Sr., grand father of Jack Clairmont of Marmora. He and his brother Eli, came from Quebec, while the iron Mine at Blairton was in operation. He lived first in a house north of that now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brady. Fire destroyed it and he built another of which Roy Frost is now the owner. Family records show that the house was built over ninety-five years ago.

The home of Jack Clairmont, is over 100 years old, having been in use by the "Page Lumber Co., and the Gilmour Lumber Co., in the early days of lumbering in this County. One of the final cuts of the latter Co. was in 1866, when government records show that they took out 22,000,000 board feet of pine lumber which was sawn at Trenton. The house was also the home of one of our oldest citizens, Mr. Richard Campion. He operated a livery there when the Gold Mine at Deloro was in operation

No doubt there are other homes here which approach the age limit, but no evidence of this has been found, and it is necessary therefore that this limit be set.
