In 1909, about 45 years from the advent of the television, air travel and the beginning of super highways followed by today's multiple expressways and jet aircraft and trips to the moon, the nation was in its horse and buggy days. Marmora's carriage maker was J.H. Warren on Main Street; W.A. Shannon was a harnessmaker at Cameron and Forsyth; Bursthall St. had a blacksmith shop run by Fred Wiley; Theodor, John, Robert, Albert and Clarence Naylor were brickmakers around Victoria and Madoc Street.

Mr. John Nayler has the prospect of the biggest output for his brick yard in its whole history. He has a large order to supply for Campbellford and the demand for Marmora and Deloro is larger than usual. Mr. Nayler will start work for the season at once.

Richard Buttwell Found Drowned

Peterboro, Aug. 1.—Overcome by a heart attack, due to the heat and over-exertion while swimming at Clear Lake, Richard Buttwell, aged 65, of Lake Shore Road, Humber Bay, Toronto, was found drowned in about three feet of water early last evening. It marks the first drowning fatality in the Kawartha district this season. An annual visitor to Kawartha Park where he had a summer home, Mr. Buttwell had been in the district for the past three days. He was accompanied by a group of Toronto friends.

Expressing the intention of going for another swim, after having been in the water on previous occasions yesterday, Mr. Buttwell left his cottage on the shores of Clear Lake about 6 o'clock. Noting Mr. Buttwell's failure to return; Fred Black of Humber Bay, went in search of his friend and discovered him lying in shallow water close to the margin of the lake. Dr. John Daye, of Toronto, a cottager, was summoned and Coroner J. C. Smith was notified. Medical opinion is that the victim was stricken with a heart attack brought about by the heat and exertion. Very little water was found in the lungs. No inquest is to be held. Mr. Buttwell is survived by his widow, who is seriously ill in a Toronto hospital, and also by four children, all married.

The deceased is a brother of Mrs John Nayler of Marmora.
