JAMES REARDON

After over a year's illness, James Reardon passed away at his home in Marmora Village late Sunday evening. He was born in Dundee, Scotland, and was in his 65th year. He was bereaved of his parents while still a child, and later joined the British navy. After his discharge he was unable to locate any of his relatives. When he first came to Canada he lived in Montreal for a time.

About seventeen years ago Mr. Reardon came to Deloro, where he entered the employ of Deloro Smelting & Refining Company Limited. For the past few years he had resided in Marmora in a residence which he purchased west of Crowe River. At Deloro he was popular with his fellow workmen. He was cheerful and kindly and ready to help those in need. He made a brave fight against ill health, entering Toronto General Hospital for treatment on several occasions. Until near the end he did not give up hope of recovery.

The sympathy of his many friends is extended to his widow, his only known survivor.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, leaving his late residence and proceeding to St. Paul's Anglican Church for service, which was conducted by Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell. Interment took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

SARAH REARDON

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Reardon was held last Saturday afternoon. The remains rested at the home of Mr. Robert Harris, west of Crowe River, from Friday morning until Saturday afternoon and the funeral proceeded to St. Paul's Anglican Church, where service was conducted by Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, who also conducted the burial service at the graveside. The pall bearers were Robert Harris, Gerald Harris, Bruce Robson, James Crawford, Albert Bartlett and Chas. Hoover,

The late Mrs. Reardon was a native of Lancashire, England, where her early life was spent. For some years she worked as a practical nurse and could relate many interesting events of her life in England. She and her husband, the late James Reardon, who predeceased her quite a number of years ago, resided at Deloro for several years, where Mr. Reardon was an employee of Deloro Smelting & Refining Co. Ltd. Later they purchased a residence, west of Crowe River, and moved to the village.

Mrs. Reardon is survived by one sister, one brother and at least two nieces in England, but so far as is known she had no relatives in Canada.

FRANK REHA ACCIDENTLY SHOT

Last Friday while John Wesley Emigh and Frank Reha were out hunting near Deloro, the latter was accidently shot by Emigh. He was taken to Deloro hospital and died there that night. The deceased was a Rumanian and had worked at Deloro for some time. He leaves a widow and one child. Reha and Emigh had been warm friends and had gone hunting together on previous occasions.

Following the accident Emigh was taken into custody and when the wounds proved to be fatal, Coroner Dr. Harper, of Madoc, ordered an inquest for Saturday forenoon. The following were sworn in as the Coroner's Jury:-

Harry Loveless, foreman. N. Kilpatrick, P. Leal, H. A. Haacke, M. J. Tamplin, Clifford Quinn, E. Shannon, and R. Murray. After a brief session and viewing the remains on Saturday, the inquest was adjourned until Tuesday afternoon.

The adjourned hearing on Tuesday lasted less than three quarters of an hour and the jury, after being out for nine minutes brought in the following verdict, freeing Emigh from all blame for the accident;

"We, the jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Frank Reha, find that he came to his death on November 30th, at Deloro Hospital, as the result of wounds received on that day when he was accidently shot by a charge from shot gun in the hands of John Wesley Emigh."

Among the witnesses called were Constable Geo. O'Neill, Mrs. Rhea Emigh, Dr. Thomson, Dr. Crawford and Provincial Constable Hammer.

Emigh described their hunting trip and told how they had divided, going around opposite sides of a hill to see if they could find something to shoot at. He saw a blue jay fly up and fired at it. Just as he pulled the trigger Reha stepped from behind a tree in the line of his fire. The pellets from the shot gun entered his left breast and also his hand. Emigh tried to carry the wounded man and then ran for help. Prov. Constable Hammer told of his investigations and that he was satisfied the shooting was entirely accidental.

The funeral of the deceased took place on Monday afternoon, service being conducted in St Paul's Church by Rev. A. B. Caldwell after which interment took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

JEAN RENNIE - * A SHOCKING ACCIDENT

Last Friday afternoon, shortly after four o'clock, Jean Rennie, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hertle Rennie, was almost instantly killed as a result of being struck by a car driven by Clarence McCoy. The latter was on his way home from work at Deloro. According to witnesses he was driving comparatively slowly at the time, but the child suddenly ran out on the road in front of the car and when she noticed it, turned and started back towards where other girls were. The accident occurred near the United church. Will Pack, a pupil in Mr. Prentice's room, quickly picked Jean up and carried her to the home of Mr. Winters, on the south side of the highway, but she passed away just as the house was reached. Constable Lavender was called and he in turn notified the Provincial Police and Traffic Officer J. H. Hatch arrived as soon as possible to conduct an investigation. Dr. F. J. Nickle, of Madoc, a Coroner for Hastings County, was also notified and after obtaining valuable information, decided to hold an inquest. The following were selected as a jury: W. R. Linn, Michael O'Connor, Ed J. Dunlay, Chas. Cronkright and Wm. Shannon. Reeve Linn was chosen as foreman by the other members. After being sworn in and viewing the remains the inquest was adjourned until next Monday, March 23rd.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, only a few close friends of the family being in attendance. Service was conducted at the house by Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell and interment took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery. A large and beautiful array of flowers bore mute evidence of the esteem in which the family is held. Members of Jean's Sunday school class, with their teacher, Miss Jennie Gray, acted as flower bearers. The pall bearers were Donnie Henry, Bert Gray, Bobbie Sanderson and Ivan Lavender.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Rennie and daughter Shirley in their sad bereavement.

NO PERSON TO BLAME

The inquest in connection with the death of little Jean Rennie was completed on Monday afternoon and the jury, composed of W. R. Linn, M. O'Connor, E. J. Dunlay, Chas. Cronkright and Wm. Shannon, with the first named as foreman, brought in the following verdict: - "That Jean Rennie came to her death on Highway No. 7, west of North Hastings Avenue in the Village of Marmora on Friday, March 13th, 1942, when struck by a motor car driven by Clarence McCoy, of the township of Marmora. We find that the cause of death was purely accidental and unavoidable."

Dr. F. J. Nickle, of Madoc, presided as Coroner, and Asst. Crown Attorney S. Gordon Robertson conducted the investigation. The witnesses called were Godfrey Scott, Court photographer, who submitted a number of photos of the scene of the accident, Traffic Officer J. H. Hatch, who investigated the accident, Dr. Hamilton Crawford, who made the post mortem examination, Will Pack and Jean Vilneff, two public school pupils who witnessed the accident, and Constable W. D. Lavender. The eye witnesses told of the deceased running out on the road, directly in front of the car and Jean Vilneff said she stopped and turned around just before the car struck her. All the evidence pointed to the tragedy being purely accidental. Constable W.D. Lavender stated the Hydro pole and road sign might have obstructed the child's view of the approaching car before she ran out on the road. Following the inquest Traffic officer Hatch laid a charge of driving with faulty brakes against McCoy. The latter pleaded guilty and paid the minimum fine of $10.00 and costs. No other blame could be attached to him and the distance in which the car stopped showed he was a competent driver.

MRS. GRACE MARIA REYNOLDS *

It was with a feeling of sincere regret that the people of this community learned of the sudden passing of Mrs. Grace Maria Reynolds at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Gowling, Ottawa, on Friday. While her health had been poor in recent years, lately it was thought she was improving somewhat. She had been visiting her daughters in Ottawa for a couple of months and it appeared the rest and change was helping her, but on Friday Mrs. Reynolds passed peacefully away, without any signs of her serious condition, as a result of a heart attack.

The late Mrs. Reynolds was born in Cookstown sixty-one years ago last January, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong. On December 19, 1899, she was married to William Robert Ruce Reynolds, a young electrical engineer, who was gaining an enviable reputation in the designing and construction of municipal Hydro-Electric distribution systems. In connection with Mr. Reynolds' professional duties they resided in Acton, Stayner, Mitchell, St. Mary's, Orillia, Forest and Listowell before coming to Deloro about sixteen years ago, where Mr. Reynolds was engaged as chief electrician. After a short residence in, Marmora the family moved to Deloro, where they continued to reside until after the death of Mr. Reynolds, which occurred in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, on August 18th, 1938.

From the time they first came to Marmora Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds took an active interest in community and church affairs. The deceased was a valued member of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild, assisting particularly in the activities of the Deloro group. Mrs. Reynolds also taught a class in the Deloro Sunday School for some time while her husband was superintendent. Kindly and cheerful Mrs. Reynolds had the art of making many friends and holding their good-will and esteem.

She is survived by five sons and three daughters. They are Arthur Reynolds, Huntingdon, Long Island, N. Y.; Roger, New York; John, Charles and William at home; Mrs. W. M. Gowling and Jean, Ottawa, and Eleanor at home. She is also survived by four sisters Mrs. A. V. Wilson, Orlando, Florida; Mrs. J. Hills and Mrs. M. Harding, Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. J. Fisher, Collingwood. The sympathy of the community goes out to the family in their bereavement. The funeral, which was private, was held on Monday afternoon.- Service was conducted at the residence, McGill Street, Marmora, by Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell assisted by Canon W. G. Swayne. Interment took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

JOHN ROGERSON "JACK REYNOLDS" *

Passed away peacefully with his family at his side on Thursday, Sept. 25, 2007 (Error – 2008) at Kingston General Hospital after a short illness. Born in Listowell on Jan. 28. in 1917 to Grace Maria Reynolds (nee Armstrong) and William Robert Reynolds.

Private family viewing was held at McConnell Funeral Home on Saturday, Sept. 27.

Among his many accomplishments, Jack was a member of Marmora Council for more than 35 years. During that time, he held the position of councillor, deputy reeve and reeve and oversaw many projects such as the installation of a sewage system & plant, the building of a water plant & system and the construction of a fire hall.

Jack received the Canada Day award by village council for his outstanding citizenship and dedication to Marmora.

A loving family man, Jack was an active member of St. Paul's Anglican Church in Marmora. He retired from Deloro Stellite after 44 years of service.

Jack had an entrepreneurial spirit, which he caught from his late father and passed on to his eldest son. One of his interests included collecting rare stamps. A pride and joy for him was a family cottage on Beaver Creek. The property remains in the family to this day and continues to be a gathering spot for family functions.

Jack was husband to the late Hilda Reynolds (nee Bonter) who died on Oct. 29, 1993. Jack was the last surviving sibling of five brothers and three sisters: Bertha Gowling, Jean Reynolds, Eleanor Watson, William, Charles, Roger Reynolds and Arthur Wilson.

Jack is survived by his sons David (and his wife Heather) of Marmora and Bill (and his wife Pat) of Keewatin. He leaves behind grandchildren: June Vaters, Tracey Thompson, Dale Reynolds, Christine Milionis and Catherine Reynolds. He is loved and missed by his 12 great grandchildren. Jack's spirit will transcend mortality through the family that he leaves behind.

He was a fine man whose commitments matched his convictions during and age when many people live in the absence of purpose. Jack led a rich life toward people and God and his love for his family didn't diminish with the creeping shadow of age. He will be forever remembered for his unassuming gentle nature and devotion to his family.

KATHLEEN LORRAINE REYNOLDS *

Early last Thursday morning Kathleen Lorraine, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Arthur Reynolds passed away at her home here. A year ago last fall she suffered an injury to her knee, which became so serious that her leg was amputated in the hope of saving her life. For a time she appeared to be getting along very well and was able to be around with the aid of crutches. In fact after summer holidays she attended school for a time, but a few weeks ago she became seriously ill and had been confined to her bed for over a month. She suffered a great deal in spite of every care that could be given her. The funeral was held last Saturday service being conducted in the United Church by Rev. F. H. Howard. Interment was made in Marmora cemetery.

WILLIAM ROBERT RUCE REYNOLDS *

The late William Robert Ruce Reynolds was a son of the late William Robert Reynolds and Sarah Jane Knox and was born at Bradford in 1878. About two years later his parents moved to Stayner, Ont, where his early life was spent. As a lad of thirteen he became interested in the development of electricity, which was beginning to attract public attention at that time. His efforts to secure a position as apprentice with some firm or individual, prominent in the electrical industry, did not meet with success for a time and he continued at school, but his ambition did not change.

Eventually he became a full-fledged electrician with both practical and technical knowledge. Public ownership of public utilities was being demanded by citizens of towns and villages all over Ontario and the late Mr. Reynolds turned his attention to Municipal work. He made a _____ reputation for the designing and construction of Municipal distribution systems. His activities in that line included the following:—

In charge of construction, Village of Acton Lighting System, one year.

Manager Stayner Electric Light Co. for two years.

Manager Corporation of Mitchell Lighting Plant, six years.

Superintendent St. Mary's Water, Light and Heat Commission, three years.

Superintendent Ingersol Power and Light Commission, two years.

Superintendent Reconstruction of Orillia Town Distribution System, one year.

Superintendent Listowel Public Utilities Commission, six years.

Superintendent Town of Forest Lighting System one year. Utilities Commission, three years.

When completed the Town of Forest Lighting System was considered one of the best in the Province for a town of its size.

As superintendent of the Listowel Public Utilities Commission he started a safety campaign by preparing short safety talks printed on a card and enclosed with electric light bills. The campaign attracted considerable attention and favorable comment.

Changing from municipal work Mr. Reynolds came to Deloro and became electrical superintendent at the plant of Deloro Smelting & Refining Co. Limited. During the years he was at Deloro he was held in high esteem, both as a citizen and an electrician and was popular with all classes. He was public spirited and took an active interest in anything for the good of the community.

He was a devoted member of the Anglican Church and took an active part in a number of its activities, but at the same time he took a kindly interest in the welfare of other denominations. During the years 1933 and 1934 he was President of St. Paul's Men's Club and from the time of its organization gave valued assistance. Whenever possible he was ready to assist with an interesting talk or reading or in any other way. He was also superintendent of Deloro Sunday School for some time. He was also a member of the Parochial Council and a Lay Delegate to Synod.

The deceased was chairman of the publicity Committee of Deloro Safety Commission for most of the time since its organization and prepared some very striking publicity. He was interested in stamp collecting and published a small manual on the subject. He was librarian of Deloro Library.

He was a member of the Masonic Order and a Liberal in politics, but never allowed politics to interfere with his friendships. Kindly and courteous, with a keen sense of humor, an interesting conversationalist and a good story teller, Mr. Reynolds made many warm friends, by whom he will be greatly missed.,

On December 19, 1899, the late William Reynolds was married to Grace Maria Armstrong, who survives him. He also leaves a family of five sons and three daughters as follows: Roger and Arthur, of New York, N.Y.; Mrs. W. M Gowling and Jean, of Ottawa, and Eleanor, Jack, Charles and William, of Deloro.

The funeral was private and was held at his late residence, Deloro, last Saturday afternoon. The service at the house and at the graveside was conducted by Rural Dean A. B. Caldwell. Interment was made in Marmora Protestant Cemetery.
